Seen, Heard and Told

By The Editor

---V---

Take time by the forelock. Do not wait until the last day, which is May 31, to file your homestead exemption. This is realty year, and Mr. McKnight, the County Assessor, urges that he be informed of any changes of ownership in real property. Like everyone else, he is busy, wants everybody to receive the homestead exemption legally belonging to them, but urges that there be no unnecessary delay.

One house has been placed off limits by the camp authorities for failing to comply with the minimum standards set up for the housing of military personnel. I assume others will be inspected as rapidly as practicable and, if found to be below the reasonable standard, will be placed off limits. It behooves the landlords who house members of the military personnel to "get their houses in order."

Four airmen from the Grenada Army Air Base were killed in a crash Monday near the McElwrath place in Beat four, but their names have not yet been released for publication, at least not to the GCW.

Speaking of airmen, the musicians from the air base did a swell job at the bond auction sale at Grenada Theatre Monday night.

The community is grateful for the talent supplied by Camp McCain in making the bond auction sale a success

Mrs. Jesse Thomason, we understand, was the one who made the greatest individual sales of E-Bonds.

Acording to John Pressgrove, an "E" flag will fly over our court house, if an extra effort is made in the sale of "E" bonds in this county.

Wonder who is going to be sitting on the curb crying next week?

Our very newest subscriber is a good colored citizen of the Holcomb community, Moses Allen by name. Hope he does not get lost in the bull rushes.

Speaking of bullrushes a Sunday School teacher asked one of her pupils where they found Moses. He said that he did not know. When refinded about Moses being found in a basket hidden in the bullrushes, he said, "Oh, that's just the tale Pharaoh's daughter put out."

They say that T. J. Lowry (without the "J", please) put on a fine party in Grenada recently.

Dr. and Mrs. C. K. Bailey will leave Saturday to be away a week while attending a dental meeting and incidentally visiting their son, Cliff, Jr., in Chicago.

I am getting damned tired of fy wife being made the publicty chairman of every damn thing in town. I might as well deed her to the town.

I am sure everyone is disappointed, as I am, that Bert Bays did not paint that cage a golden color so that the bird Greenfield, could be a bird in a gilder cage.

Whenever you need money, Uncle Sam, come to Grenada where there is plenty.

Aint they sweet.

Pfc. John W. Waddel, supposed to be in the lonely Aleutians, is receiving the GCW as a gift from Aunt Selma.

Business boys, you had better begin cultivating the home trade and the community trade more. This era of false prosperity is not going to last forever.

I have pretty good information about what Ralph Semmes swapped that 100 lbs. of sugar far.

Brother Vollie is going to make the folks beleive that he plowed a mule, if he does not quit writing such realistic stuff.

Oh, me.

And add the girl who, being asked what her favorite hymn was, replied "that one over there with the three stripes on his sleeve."

Better look after your old customers first and pay a little less attention to the easy money from the construction workers and the military personnel. Also, it would be most wise to cater to the customers in our legitimate trade territory, and not let Calhoun City, Greenwood, Memphis and Jackson gobble it all up, otherwise Grenada may be sitting high and dry after the camp and the base are abandoned.

Joe Moss also pitched in two dollars which kept the wolf from the door a few more hours.

Champ Film Fan Thrills To Same Movie After 350 Times

By Cpl. Carl Happel

You've seen a movie twice, perhaps three times, but suppose you saw the same one every single day, perhaps had viewed it 350 times to date

How would you feel when it flashed on the screen again? Would you be inclined to scream, shut your eyes, feel indifferent or just go nuts?

We inquired of an AM instructor, who along with many others in the Army is faced with the problem of seeing the same show over and over. Pvt. John A. Chapuis teaches oxygen in Inspection, and he presents a double-feature to a class of students twice a day, has been doing it for six months. He kindly agreed to give us his intimate, thought-by-thought reactions as he sat there in that darkened balcony room in Hanger 3.

The first of the two movies has to do with high-altitude flying. It shows what happens to an Airacobra pilot, climbing in formation to intercept the enemy at 20,000 feet, who has left this oxygen mask behind in the ready room. It pictures experiments with clothing that take place in a cold chamber. There are laboratory scenes and animated drawings which demonstrate the theories behind the happenings in the high air. And a very good sequence giving the effect of certain dishes and liquid refreshments at high altitude on the crew of a B-24, member by member.

The second film, all on the same reel, presents the various things a crew chief must do to service an oxygen system on an airplane.

"Sure," said Private Chapuis, "I know the whole thing by heart. What the commentator will say next, that the next piece of music will be a march. But certain things I still get a kick out of—maybe because the students watching it do too.

"Take the scene in the oxygen chamber where the two men are playing cards, one wearing an oxygen mask and the other bare-faced. Just watching what the bare-face fellow does as the oxygen is gradually exhausted gets 'em every time. He starts fumbling, has to count the cards over again, he finally can't even decide whether he ought deal or look at his hole card. That scene really tells a story."

Some of the laboratory scenes, he says, often remind him of his high school days in Grenada, Miss., "I think of the time Coach Hathorn stuck a match in some pure oxygen to prove it aided in burning. We thought it would explode.

"And every time I look at the cartoon showing the relation between air pressure and blocked sinuses, I think of the 11 days I spent in the station hospital with sinus trouble, I keep seeing a little white bed . . . In the part where the pilot leaves his mask behind, I now think of my furlough at home this past Christmas, I left my raincoat here at camp. It rained almost every day."

The cold chamber scene, where four men in various kinds of highup clothes let below zero temperatures try to get under their skin, reminds him of being in the ice plant at home, just as the tall oxygen cylnders bring up pictures of his job in the creosote plant, where he used similar cylinders in acetylene torch work. The cylinders also make him think of the notice on the branch bulletin board telling how a Flying Fortress was blown up when an unlabeled cylinder containing hydrogen was attached to the oxygen system.

"The whole thing's a pretty serious subject," Chapuis commented. "When these fellows go overseas they'll be responsible for a lot of the operations connected with a plane's oxygen equipment. This movie, believe, really puts across the importance of oxygen knowledge. They see actual proof of things, and many of them tell me afterwards how they really got something out of it."

And just as he knows what's coming next in the movie, he also has learned to expect many of the same questions afterward. "Why did they start the No. 3 engine first instead of the No. 1?" "How come a pursuit pilot wears only a heavy jacket instead of an electrically heated or fur-lined suit?" "Won't pure oxygen harm the body?" (answer: "Aren't you forgetting about oxygen tents in hospitals?")

Again, Chapuis can often predict during what scene, where the music is especially martial, the students will begin patting their feet. ("Take it easy fellows! There're other men under this balcony)."

But Private Chapuis really does not mind. He doesn't mind seeing that movie over again. He considers oxygen an ever-interesting subject, likes to see other people interested in it. He uses many points in the movies as a basis for demonstration afterward, when students handle the rubber mask on the table, or test for leaks with the soapy water in the coke bottle beside it.

He graduated with the third class turned out by our school, and has been teaching over a year. Conducting oxygen classes with him is Cpl. Herbert H. Huhen, of St. Louis, Mo.—The Gulfport Field Post.

So You Can't Buy Another Bond

Take a good look at this American soldier as he lies in the mud of Rendova Island in the Southwest Pacific, victim of a Jap air raid. It is not a pleasant scene, is it? When you are asked to buy an extra War Bond to Back the Attack think of this picture of your fellow American blasted by the concussion of a Jap bomb thousands of miles from home. Then brother, don't you think you will want to dig a little deeper to back up his comrades? From U. S. Treasury

Station Hospital Chapel Dedicated Recently

Recently the Station Hospital Chapel, Camp McCain, Miss., was dedicated for the consecration of life and service to God and Country, as "a house of prayer for all people."

The Chapel, newly built by the Post Engineers under the sponsorship and encouragement of Colonel Ryder, Post Commander, Colonel Campbell, Commanding Officer, Station Hospittal and Lt. Chambers, Hospital Utility Officer, will provide a place of worship for the Hospital's personnel and patients of all creeds.

The Dedicatory service was opened by an Invocation and Responsive Reading of the 23rd Psalm, led by Chaplain Manley E. Fairchild; followed by a violin solo, Schubert's "Ave Maria", played by Pvt. Joachim eKrker.

Colonel Daniel C. Campbell, in his presentation of the chapel to the congregation, said "For a long time it has been our dream to have a place in this hospital where patients, personnel or anyone who so desires could attend services. While this is not an elaborate building, we feel that in it is sufficient dignity to furnish a place of worship that will accomplish the same end as if it were built of marble."

Accompanied by Pfc. Dorothy McGrie on the organ, Lt. Mary B. Easton, ANC, sang the hymn "Come Unto Me"; followed by the reading of the Act of Dedication by Chaplain G. F. Gaerttner, Post Chaplain, and the congregation.

Short addresses were made by Chapwain Wm. E. Swoope, Division Chaplain, 94th Inf. Division; Chaplain Henry P. Mannion, Assistant Division Chaplain; 94th Inf. Division; and Mr. Vm. Gordon, Jewish Welfare Board, emphasizing the welcome extended to ersons of all creeds who wish to attend service in the Chapel.

Chaplain Swoope said "This chapel, just as many other chapels throughout our country represnts what we are really fighting for—freedom of worship. Catholic, Protestant and Jew will assemble here to meet their God." Chaplain Mannion, who has been conducting Catholic mass in the Red Cross room of the Hospital, commented on the desirability of having a room set aside and dedicated solely to the purpose of worship. Representing the Jewish Welfare Board, Mr. Wm. Gordon told of the special significance this and other Service chapels had to people of his faith, who in some countries are subjects of persecution and find it difficult to follow their religion.

Another violin solo was played by Pvt. Joachim Kerker; the "Air in G" by Bach, and the services were closed by a prayer and benediction by the Hospital chaplain, Chaplain Fairchild.

Throughout the service, hymns were sung from the Army and Navy Hymnal by the congregation, which included hospital patients, civilian friends, Army nurses, doctors and Hospital technicians, and members of the WAC.

Here after, Protestant, Catholic and eJwish services will be conducted regularly in the Chapel.

Tommie Kincaid Died Tuesday Night, Buried Today

Tommie Kincaid, member of an old family of this county, died Tuesday night, February 15, 1944, from the effects of a long-standing heart ailment.

He was born several miles east of Grenada, and after his schooling worked in the Grenada post office, after which he became a mail clerk on the railroad. His retirement from work was forced by ill health several years ago. He is survived by his widow, the former Miss Maude Peeples.

Interment at Woodlawn and services are being conducted today by Rev. G. E. Wiley and Rev. E. R. Henderson, pastors of the First and Central Baptist churches, respectively.

To the sorrowful ones, we extend sympathy.

CELEBRITY HERE

Lt. James W. (Reb) Butler is now at Camp McCain.

His birthday was celebrated with a gay affair at the Officers' Club Sunday night. 42 candles were scheduled to be on his cake, but no candles could be bought.

Present were Mr. and Mrs. Charles Perry, Mrs. Sitt Hitt, Miss Juanita Brunt and Lt. Jim O'Keefe.

Nuff sed.

Grenada County over-subscribed their Fourth War Loan quota 108 percent before the Auction Sale on February 14th, and with a little more effort this week in selling E-Bonds, which had reached 93.4 percent on February 14th Grenada county can secure one of the "E-Bond Quota" flags to fly over the court house.

Woman's Activity Division of the 4th War Loan Drive contributed a most worthy percent of Grenada county's quota.

On February 14th the Woman's Activity Division realized $138,000.00 in maturity value bonds at their Bond Auction Sale. Throughout the current drive the following bond sales are reported: The Garden Club booth at the Grenada Theatre sold $65,400.00; the booth at the corner of Grenada Bank sold $99,246.00. The Twentieth Century Club reported $63,150.00 sold by members of their club. Stamps sold totaled $78.55, making a grand total of $365,796.00 maturity value bonds.

Special thanks for making the auction sale a great success goes to the management of Grenada Theatre for their spacious anditorium and stage, to the business firms who were most gracious in their response with valuable gifts and to the talented musicians from Grenada Air Base and military personnel who contributed their services by playing numerous selections and assisted with the auction of bonds.

Mrs. E. L. Wilkins
Chairman of Woman's Division, 4th War Loan Drive.

Dental Clinic At Station Hospital Has Heavy Load

Proof of the Army's contention that American soldiess are receiving the best dental treatment that the dental profession has to offer, is reflected in a report by Colonel C. R. Benney, chief, Dental Section, Camp McCain, Miss., showing that at Camp McCain during the year 1943, a total of 130,538 dental services and treatments were rendered. These treatments included 99,415 fillings, 2,916 bridges and dentures and 28,207 extractions.

Three dental clinics, with a total of 60 dental units, are maintained at Camp McCain, working with the best equipment obtainable toward giving the U. S. Soldier the finest type of dental treatment. These units are staffed with highly trained officers, among the best in dental profession, aided by Civil Service employees, enlisted men and WAC's trained as dental assistants, hygienists, and laboratory technicians.

In remarking on the care and treatment given the Army personnel generally, the Post Surgeon stated that the Army had the finest doctors available as well as the best materials and equipment that science and money can provide.

Thomas R. Mitchell Died On January 22st

Thomas Reginold Mitchell, Chief Machinist Mate, U. S. Navy, died on Treasure Island, California on January 21, 1944. He entered the Navy in 1938. It is believed that his death was occasioned by liver trouble coming from overwork on the battle front. His home is near Charleston, but he has many friends in Grenada county. He was a nephew of Mrs. John Hall, of Cascilla, his parents both are dead, but he has a grandmother 75 years of age to grieve over his death.

Thus the list of those who died from result of action with the enemy lengthens.

(It is regretted that the photo sent us was not suitable for publication, otherwise we would gladly have done so.)

Buffet Supper Following Sale

Mrs. E. L. Wilkins, chairman of 4th War Loan Drive in Grenada county, opened her home to the military personnel who assisted so graciously in the Bond Auction Sale on Monday the 14th. Members of the Grenada Air Base band and the military personnel who assisted in other ways with the Auction Sale were guests at a delightful buffet supper supplied by the Grenada Theatre management. Mrs. Wilkins was assisted with the reception of her guests by a group of friends.

40 BRED GILTS SELL—Featuring the GET of PROSPECTOR'S ACE

Many of these gilts are sired by Prospector's Ace. PROSPECTOR'S ACE is sired by Proud Wave Ace and he was the First Prize Junior Yearling Boar at the 1941 Ohio State Show. Also, he was the sire of the Junior Champion of the same show, and the sire of the highest-selling board pig in 1941. Prospector's Ace is undoubtedly one of the better boars of the breed today and that is as it should be for there are six Grand Champions in his pedigree. His littermate Proud Cherry King, is also a Grand Champion. This breeding is tops in the breed today. Any gilt sired by, or bred to Prospector's Ace should prove a valuable investment . . . we will offer both on February 28th.

In addition to those gilts sired by Prospector's Ace, we are selling a number of head sired by the following boars: Gold Star by All Star, High Score by Packer Boy and Red Wave Orion by Golden Orion Ohio. These gilts are modern in every way and we want you to see them. Dams of gilts that sell are sired by the following boars: Gold Star, Colonel Orion, Royal Orion King, Red Wave Orion, Pathfinder Thickset and Foxhall Flashman 1st.

The gilts are bred to Prospector's Ace, Colonel Paycheck and Congress Boy. Col. Paycheck is the good, low-down, thick boar that was used in the Warwick and W. B. Bynum herds. Congress Boy is the Junior Champion Boar of the Blytheville, Arkansas Show purchased by us from J. C. Buchanan.

THE HEREFORD CATTLE . . . .

We are not offering many head—only ten head—but these cattle are of choice quality and of the type that you will like. We are selling WOODFORD FAIRFAX, a polled bull sired by Bullion Fairfax and out of a Beau Blanchard and Woodford bred dam. This bull is only three years old but he has proven himself as a sire, and as a good "dehorner."

One polled cow, Pretty Maid 24th, sells. Calved 7-18-39, she is a top daughter of Choice Domino 9th. Also horned females, all bred to WOODFORD FAIRFAX. They are mainly of Domino breeding and all are of good quality.

One horned bull sells, Mischief Lad, calved 9-2-42, and is a son of Domino Lad 331st. Here is a bull that will do someone a lot of good.

Although the quantity is small, these Herefords are certainly not lacking in quality. Be sure to give them your close examination sale day.

THROUGH A WOMAN'S EYE

By Mrs. W. W. Whitaker

JUVENILE DELINQUENCY

The Nation is justly aroused over the crime wave all over the country of its young people. You hardly ever pick up a paper that hasn't an article about Juvenile Delinquency. We have a court record of juvenile offenders here in Grenada, though we hesitate to publish it.

Often this delinquency does not lead to a crime punishable by the law, but it does lead to misbehavior unbecoming to a youngster who is, in all probability, steadily moving into a position in the community, where, as as adult he will be one of the community's leaders. Often a juvenile delinquent because an adult delinquent—hence the many disappointing failures among citizens scattered thru the community. Here in Grenada we have need of a children's club room. I recently read where a small town in Ohio with a population of 5,000, created a center for the young people of the town, (sponsored by the Lion's Club), and named it "Kat's Kavern," possibly because their football team was called "The Wildcats." The operation cost about $200.00 per month, and one-half of the expense was paid by profits from the milk-soft drink bar. Dues are $1.00 per year at that club. Recently we had the pleasure of going through the club room for young people at Leland, Miss. It was a redecorated store building, consisting of three rooms. The two front rooms being formed by partitions dividing the front (about one-third of length). One room having a pingpong table and the other as a reception room. The large back room had a smooth dance floor, one corner of which was devoted to the "milk bar". Wouldn't it be fine for Grenada youngsters, whose football team name is "Bulldog" to have a club house called "The Dog House," or "The Pup Tent?" The membership would necessarily be confined to High School pupils. In communities having these centers, boys and girls have actually re-entered classes at school, in order that they may become members of the club. Grenada will soon have their Community House for activities. Please remember that our Grenada children need a club room.

We wonder if juvenile delinquency isn't a product of adult delinquency, and adult delinquency a result of juvenile delinquency.

VOLUNTEERS NEEDED IN USO ACTIVITIES

The committee appointed from the USO Council met at Rev. W. L. Robinson's office Friday afternoon with USO directors at 4:30 and progress was made in plans dealing with securing more volunteers for work at Soldier recreation centers in Grenada and definite plans concerning the proposed series of lectures to be given on this work by outstanding USO representatives next month

The USO will soon open its new building on Main Street, and in addition to this large center, Grenada has three soldier centers located at churches, namely at the Presbyterian, Baptist and Methodist churches. The NCCS-USO Women's Division, located across the street from the new USO building on Main and the special feature programs, (mostly Saturday evening dances) staged in the American Legion Hut on Mound Street, completes the settings in Grenada where soldiers congregate. The USO will relinquish its hold on the City owned Community House when the new Main Street building is ready for occupancy. Grenada needs this building for club activities and for group of youngsters still in high school.

There are several kinds of work to be done by volunteers and late in March a school of instructions will be held in Grenada. The hostess group is the one most volunteers are familiar with, however it is most important that we have volunteers to take charge of the information desks at the bus station, railroad depot and the NCCS and Travelers Aid office. A volunteer is not asked to give days of service. She is asked to give several hours and on stated days, and these hours and the day conform to her wishes and convenience. The work is very appealand volunteers are sought among Grenada's citizenship and the wives of military personnel both at Camp McCain and Army Air Base. Volunteer now by calling Miss Sell at 350 or Miss Conrad at 93 (Travelers Aid) or Miss Prout at the NCCS, Phone 63 or ministers at your church centers.

Grenada friends of the family will regret to hear of the death of Mr. R. L. Hinds, for a long time a great business leader of Tupelo. His wife is the former Miss Helen Dubard, daughter of Mr. W. M. Dubard, of Grenada.

Victory Hints

By SAMMY BURTON

Home Service Director

Mississippi Power & Light Co.

GOOD LIGHT AND ECONOMY

Many a thrifty homemaker today is saving vegetable juices from cooking to be used later in making soups, thus making use of the precious vitamins they contain.

SAMMY BURTON

There's another valuable "juice" too. Electrict "Juice." Do you use it so as to get its greatest possible advantages? We all need light for good eye-sight. Good lighting saves our eyes from eyestrain, prevents accident, makes us see quickly and accurately! Check up to see if you are using eyes and light properly. Be sure you are getting the light you need for the least money.

DO YOU place a small lamp for reading beside your bed or beside your husband's favorite chair? Is it a lamp so low that light can hardly reach the book he is reading? If so, use a taller lamp with a flaring bell-shaped shade, or better still, try a pin-up lamp with a diffusing bowl and 100-watt bulb above your bed.

DO YOU persist in using lamp shades with rosy pink linings just because they look pretty? Try white-lined shades. They'll increase light a third. White surfaces and materials reflect light; hence the amount of light is increased.

DO YOU take care to sit by the window in the daytime if you are reading or sewing? There may be ten times more light at the window than in the corner.

MORE LIGHT FROM A CAKE OF SOAP—hate to mention it, but dirt does make a difference. In fact, 30 per cent of your light can be wasted if bulbs, diffusing bowls and ceiling fixtures are not cleaned carefully and frequently. It's easy, today, homemakers, to get every last bit of your light value—with the help of a little soap and water. Wash lamp bulbs with a damp cloth, but be sure to dry thoroughly before using. Wash reflector bowls in warm (not hot) soapy water and dry thoroughly. Brush lamp shades often. Remember that while your family is reading, sewing or playing cards, you can give them extra light at no extra cost and guard their eyes by following these simple steps.

Marshall Perry stated that all of his brothers, sisters and brothers-in-law were in service and he had just received his A-card. He has a wife and two children.

Grenada County, as usual, went over in a big way in its war bond quota. Congratulations are due all concerned.

FOOD FIGHTS FOR FREEDOM

The farmer has done a wonderful job of food production this year. With a shortage of help and machinery he has set a new all-time record for the seventh year in a row.

SAMMY BURTON

Our food production in the year 1943 is about a third greater than the average of the pre-war years 1935-39. Yet even though greater, our 1943 food supply, due to extraordinary demands for food, particularly for certain popular food items, will perhaps not equal the demand. We must share our food with our armed forces, our allies, and friendly neighbors and all of us civilians. There is a job here at home that everyone of us can do to help food fight along-side our soldiers for freedon..

There is only a certain amount of food to go around—and, as the war progresses, there will be less and less, so we must all get in and pitch to:

PRODUCE more food of the right kind.

CONSERVE food and avoid waste. The garbage pail must be starved.

PLAY SQUARE AND SHARE food through rationing, observe the rules cheerfully and willingly so that everyone gets his fair share.

EAT THE RIGHT FOODS—This means 3 well-balanced meals a day, which should consist of green and yellow vegetables, besides potatoes; at least one serving daily of citrus fruit (oranges, grapefruit, etc.); milk and milk products; one helping of meat, poultry, fish or eggs; bread and cereals, at least 2 helpings daily; butter or fortified margarine used in moderation.

Unless business picks up, I guess I will have to go to preaching.

Lt. Bonnifield and Pvt. Martin were recent visitors to this so-called emporium.

Poor Mississippi.

USO News

USO NOTES CONCERNING YOUR TRAVELERS AID SERVICE

You've seen their symbol or trademark if you like—a lamp with a map of the two hemispheres on it. Have you stopped to learn what it's all about or perhaps how they might help you, a friend or relative?

Traditionally, Travelers Aid has offered an individualized service for persons moving from one place to another, and for newly arrived residents in a community. No thought is given to race, creed nor to other discriminatory things but to the manner in which each person can best be served.

Away from home and familiar surrounds, anyone is apt to be confused or even lost. Many such persons seek Travelers Aid help in directing them or in locating a lost friend or perhaps a recently moved relative. The runaway teenage boy or girl is often returned to homes where parents are frantically uneasy. Travelers Aid can arrange a protected journey for the child, the aged, the convalescent and the inexperienced traveler. Near military reservations, camp followers are returned to home communities where supervision and social planning is arranged for.

No one is totally immune to difficulties which may occur while traveling or on arrival in a new place. America's non-settled population and moving groups are growing rapidly into a major problem. The soldier, in transit, may lose his ticket, his wallet or his furlough papers—Travelers Aid can quickly adjust the difficulty through cooperating channels. The stranded person or family, the transient, the hitchhiker may encounter misfor une in varying degrees. The problem of each becomes an individual one to the experienced Travelers Aid Worker. She must see both the human and practical aspects and a plan must rapidly evolve—designed to effectively help the person help himself.

The Travelers Aid lamp means universal understanding and an integrated chain of service around the world.

Submitted by Helen F. Conrad, Director USO Travelers Aid Service, Grenada, Miss.

The Valentine dance held on Saturday evening at Legion Hut USO with the Junior and Senior Hostesses in charge was a most delightful occasion. Red and white crepe paper and red hearts gave the hall a most attractive appearance. The Junior Hostesses came in costume with red hearts predominating. Five Servicemen acted as the Judges during the grand march. The prizes for the three most attractive costumes were presented to Imogene Calk, Mary Jane Daigre and Jeffie Bailey by Director McDaniel. The Senior Hostesses for the evening were Mrs. T. T. Yeager, Mrs. E. L. Beta, Mrs. Hal Cullen and Mrs. J. M. Talbert.

An important meeting of Junior Hostesses will be held on Monday, February 21st at the Community House USO at 7:30 p. m. Membership cards will be presented by Mr. McDaniel, Director.

The monthly meeting of USO Council will be held Friday, February 18, 4 p. m. at Community House.

Seen, Heard and Told By The Editor

Tom Meek has been living a fairly good life since Mary has been away

Mr. O. G. Allen, editor of the Denham Springs Times in Louisiana dropped in to say hello and effect an exchange of our respective newspapers. His ideas and my ideas of running a country newspaper are very similar.

We changed our system this week by sending each man overseas his copy in an individual wrapper, which should insure that the men receive their papers more regularly. This is a good deal more trouble for us, but we want to serve.

My favorite single blond is as pretty as ever.

Help keep Horn out of devilment this week end by rushing in the job orders.

Joe Enderlin and wife, now basking in the balmy breezes of the Gulf at Brownsville, has been missing his paper simply because he failed to notify us in time of his address change. Aint it grand to be rich.

Mesdames Blanche Clark, Jesse Carver and A. J. Scruggs left Tuesday for a visit to their sister, Mrs. C. H. Abbott, in San Antonio. They expect to be away about ten days.

It looks like Roy Doak has gone into the ministry, as a ministerial car and trailer are parked by his front door.

Dear Juchheim: please come and fix my awning.

Mrs. Dora Mullin has got back into good standing on our mailing list.

I believe I have picked out me a favorite waitress at the Tom Cafe.

Speaking about the Tom Cafe, one of the Toms is riding about like a millionaire, but I'll bet he will not be idle long, because he has worked hard all his life.

Do not get hot and bothered if you have paid your subscription, and your date has not been changed. We just have not had time to revise our mailing list.

Just as soon as we can get to it, we are going to rid our list of all dead timber, that is folks who are behind.

Major and Mrs. Waite enjoyed a week end in Memphis last week—a holiday well deserved.

His papa sent the GCW to J. B. Rose at Pampa, Texas, and I hope he gets it regularly.

Claud Shaw, farmer and planter of Mosquito Lake, was in town on farm holiday and renewed.

Wonder how our former pressman, Dorothy, is getting along.

And do not forget the sergeant, who being asked what he would do if fire broke out in the barracks, replied that he would order, "Cease Firing."

Sentinels of Health

Don't Neglect Them!

Nature designed the kidneys to do a marvelous job. Their task is to keep the flowing blood stream free of an excess of toxic impurities. The act of living—life itself—is constantly producing waste matter the kidneys must remove from the blood if good health is to endure.

When the kidneys fail to function as Nature intended, there is retention of waste that may cause body-wide distress. One may suffer nagging backache, persistent headache, attacks of dizziness, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes—feel tired, nervous, all worn out.

Frequent, scanty or burning passages are sometimes further evidence of kidney or bladder disturbance.

The recognized and proper treatment is a diuretic medicine to help the kidneys get rid of excess poisonous body waste. Use Doan's Pills. They have had more than forty years of public approval. Are endorsed the country over. Insist on Doan's. Sold at all drug stores.

VAUGHT-ELLIOTT

Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Elliott, of 511 Fourth Street, announce the engagement of their daughter, Pauline, to Sgt. Eugene E. Vaught, son of Mr. and

Mrs. G. D. Vaught, of Bellville, Ill.

Miss Elliott is a member of the class of '44 of Grenada High School and will be graduated in May.

Sgt. Vaught was graduated from Bellville Township High School in 1940 and entered the service in November, 1942. He is at present stationed at Grenada Army Air Base.

No definite wedding plans have been made.

TWENTIETH CENTURY CLUB

The lovely home of Mrs. H. L. Honeycutt on College Boulevard was opened to the Twentieth Century Club Tuesday, February 15th, when Mrs. Honeycutt and Mrs. Spivey Kent graciously entertained them.

There were only two club members absent, while the guest list included Mesdames R. H. Lupton, F. L. Milligan, R. F. Matthews, C. W. Kosman, Elizabeth Brown, Miss Edith Penn and the house hostess' charmingdaughter, Mrs. Pat Mullin.

The entire home was lighted by lamps and candles, and sweet scented flowers were arranged throughout the rooms. Especially noticeable was the silver bowl of cut carnations in the spacious long entrance hall.

In the business session two outstanding reports were made by Mrs. Ray, secretary reported 4th War Bonds sold by members had totaled $65,669.0.. Mrs. C. C. Penn, Library Chairman made a report for 1943 as follows: circulation of books throughout the county and city was 51618; the value of books added last year was 740 while there was 844 new borrowers; books on hand at close of year was 6385; th are now eight volunteer "County Stations" and 4 schools serviced; the rental shelf brought in $239.68 and $198.75 from fines. Her report on the John Rundle Memorial shelf mentions receipts $701.60—expenditures $427.30, an that 231 volumes had been bought and added to the large number donated by friends to this cause. The program for the afternoon was good. It was capably presented by Mesdames E. A. Penn and O. L. Kimbrough.

Mrs. Penn's subject was "Our Changing World in the customs of Our First and Present Presidents." Mrs. Kimbrough gave a resume of Page's romantic and historic novel, "The Tree of Liberty."

At the conclusion of the program the hostesses assisted by Mrs. Pat Mullin, Miss Edith Penn and Mrs. Gene Marders served a most delectable refreshment plate of chicken salad, wafers, olives, pickles, chocolate-coated almonds and coffee.

Just before departing, and a fitting close to this program, Mrs. John Keeton played, "The Star Spangled Banner" on the piano.

Club Secy.

Mr. Jack Dyre, of Dyre-Kent Drug Co., made a business trip to Jackson on Wednesday.

Mr. J. H. Neely, Sr., president of the Grenada Auto Co., was a business visitor in Memphis this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Stratton have returned from a trip to Jackson, Miss., their forfer hofe in that city being the Edwards Hotel, where they resided ten years.

The many friends of Mrs. Ethel Hollis Patterson will learn with regret of her serious illness at her home on Union Street. Her husband, who is in the army is here and an extension of his furlough has been requested through the Red Cross.

Lt. Adams, of 87th Division, now located at Fort Jackson, S. C. spent Sunday in Grenada.

MISS ROSE ENTERTAINS

Miss Bettye Rose and Mrs. Howard Rose entertained Monday night, February 15th with an attractively planned Valentine and Leap Year party, with refreshments served and enjoyable games were played.

CIVIL WAR RELIC REPRODUCED

Last week a poem was reproduced in the "Greenhouse" column in Memphis Commercial Appeal. Most of it being from memory. This poem, written on a $20 Confederate bill was given friends by the composer, Major S. A. Jonas, of Aberdeen, and are now very cherished souvenirs.

After reading this poem, Mrs. Sam Mims, Jr., searched for this poem in her scrap book and found an original copy of the poem, on a Confederate $20 bill, printed in newspaper type. The bill was part of a collection of "keepsakes" given Mrs. Mims by her uncle and step-father. Gov. John M. Stone, who served Mississippi as governor during the turbulent times, following the Civil War.

The poem:

Take this scrap and hide it,
For years of war have tried it,
And the people now deride it
For its value is all gone.
Its promises are all broken,
Its destiny has been spoken
And to us 'tis but a token
Of that glory once our own.

Take this note—none will have it,
Though thousands died to save it,
And a Nation's honor gave it
As truly pledged for gold.
Yet that Nation's courage faltered
For the people's hearts were altered
And as traitors some were haltered
Ere this currency was old.

Fold this bill—no bank will take it,
And the soldiers even now forsake it
And no power now can make it
What it was of yore.

Yes, fold and keep it forever,
For it tells of lips that quiver
Over graves by hill and river
And of blood by heroes shed.
With a curse on every Tory
And a blush for fallen glory,
It bears this mournful story
Our country's holes are dead.

Mr. J. C. Morren, of New Augusta, Miss., surprised his sister, Mrs. D. H. Horn by coming for a two day visit Monday. This is the first time they met in 12 years.

Mrs. Clayton Carpenter and sister-in-law, Mrs. Harpole, left Thursday for Arizona, where Mrs. Harpole will visit her soldier husband.

Pin-up for Those Not Buying Bonds

This American soldier took refuge under a truck during a Jap bombing raid of our positions on Rendova. A Nipponese bomb, however, had his number on it. Here you see his comrades gently removing his body from under the engine. When you are asked to buy War Bonds think of this picture. From U. S. Treas.

Not all the victories are on our side; not all the losses are our enemy's. Here you see barrel upon barrel of good American fuel going up in smoke after a Jap strafing.

The boys cannot be replaced but the material can—that is, if all real Americans do their utmost in the war effort and buy War Bonds.

MODERN WAYS TO COOK PORK

The secret of successful pork cookery lies in a moderate temperature for a long-enough-time to assure that the meat is well-done to the very center. During slow cooking the rich flavor is fully developed, and the exterior acquires an attractive golden brown. Pork should always be cooked well-done.

SAMMY BURTON

There are 5 methods used in cooking pork. These are roasting, broiling, pan broiling, braising, and cooking in water. Both fresh and smoked pork are roasted—only smoked cuts are broiled and pan broiled. Both fresh and smoked pork may be braised and cooked in water. Pork is not used in making stews. Three methods of pork cookery are:

ROASTING

Fresh Pork—Season roast with salt and pepper and place fat side up in an open roasting pan. A loin roast needs no rack, but other cuts do. Place in moderate oven (350°F). Do not cover the pan because roasting is cooking by dry heat and when the roast is covered, it is surrounded by steam. Basting is not necessary for, as the meat cooks, the fat will melt and run over and into the roast.

BROILING

Smoked ham slice, bacon and sliced Canadian style bacon may be broiled.

Ham. A moderately low temperature should be used. Cut the fat edge in several place to prevent curling. Turn heat to high and place ham on broiler rack so that top surface is about three inches from heat. Turn when ham is slightly brown. Only one turning is necessary. Continue broiling until second side is done. The time required depends on thickness: a one-half inch slice requires 15 to 20 minutes; 1 inch slice, 20-30 minutes.

BRAISING

Pork chops and steaks are cooked best by braising. Heat a heavy frying-pan until very hot. Add about one tablespoon of lard or, if the chops have a good covering of fat, place the chops in the pan with the fat edge down. Brown chops nicely on both sides. Do not add any water. Reduce the heat, cover closely, and cook slowly so that they will be uniformly cooked. The time required is 45-60 minutes.

Stabalizing Our Subscription List

Just as soon as we possibly can get to it, we expect to revise our printed mailing list, cutting off all those who are not paid in advance. We are not trying to be "smart" or "uppity", but there is no sense in any business carrying dead timber.

Right now we are over two months overdue in the revision of our list. We have between 100 and 150 new subscribers to add; we have several hundred subscribers whose expiration dates must be changed; we have about 150 changes in address, and we have about 100 whose subscription have expired.

When/if we get to the revision of our list, we will have about 125 "openings" for new subscribers. When these are filled, we do not expect to accept ANY new subscribers unless or until we cut off an old one. We will not accept subscriptions for over one year.

Inasmuch as new subscribers are coming in steadily, we are going to be pretty strict about carrying on a subscriber whose subscription has expired, except when the subscriber gives us a good promise.

It takes four of us working steady for 4 hours to "get out the paper" and that's about our limit with our present force.

We would sincerely appreciate it if those whose subscriptions are out would tell, telephone or write us to stop the paper, if they do not want it any more. Conversely, we do not want to drop any who want the paper.

"Little Annie" Is Dead

"Little Annie," a mule which Ed Lewis has owned 35 years, is dead.

She plowed the Perry Creek bottom lands and the slopes of that creek. She ate Ed's corn and hay, and supplied security for Ed's loans at Grenada Bank. By the tug of the trace chains on her collar, she helped pull Ed out of debt. Paired up with another creature who, it is said, has no pride in ancestry and no hope of posterity, she hauled up wood to keep Ed warm. When roads were slick, she hauled him to work.

The heart of this faithful mule gradually weakened until it ceased to pulsate. Whether this death was due to thwarted hopes, unrequited affection or just plain old age, the writer (who is no veterinarian) can not say.

Anyway, like the slaves of Lincoln's days, Little Annie died free, as Ben Adams in cancelling the mortgage had signed Little Annie's Emancipation Proclamation.

The Army Nurse

The following paragraph from a speech delivered by Congressman Lyle H. Boren, of Oklahoma at Seminole, Oklahoma, on January 7, 1944, deserves a place in anybody's scrap book:

> Corregidor saw not only the stout hearts of men but also the quiet courage of the American woman. The nurse was there. She touched the brow of agony and held the hand of pain. When the first rays of sunlight kissed the waking world they touched not the dew of morning but the tears in her angelic eyes. When the drapes of twilight clothed parts of the world in rest she was at her task. And the moon moving in mystic majesty across the parapet of the sky in royal robes of stardust saw her kneeling by the wounded. The nurse was there, her ears attuned to hear the slightest whisper of pain as though it were the voice of a trumpet, her gentle hands working in never-ending haste, her woman's heart breaking in silent courage admitted only in her quiet tears—God bless the nurse and let angels and archangels prepare a royal robe for her.

Gabriel Heatter And His Dog

Some months ago certain individuals in New York City suggested that we dispose of our dogs to save food. Protests from dog lovers all over the country were immediately voiced. The one that stands out above all others was uttered by Gabriel Heatter, noted radio commentator:

> "Well," said Gabriel Heatter, "in so far as it affects me personally, it won't ever be any great problem. My dog can have half what I am entitled to, and when there isn't enough for both he can have any part of whatever I am entitled to. I'll get by without food when I have to—I doubt if I could get by without a dog. I can survive hunger where my stomach is concerned—I doubt if I could face all the hunger my soul would feel if I had to give up my dog.
> "Forget sentiment? You might as well say forget every decent ideal for which we are fighting. Is liberty anything more than a noble sentiment; is all the outrage and pain and hurt we feel, when others suffer, anything more than a noble sentiment?
> "My devotion to my dog and his for me are born of all that very thing which inspires a man to fight injustice. And when more men and women learned kindness and devotion to animals, more of us will practice it in our human relationships.
> "I'll give what is left of my useless life gladly for this war—and my last dollar and all the work of my head and hands—but if mankind ever came to a pass where it was necessary to kill off my dog, I'm afraid I'd turn in my membership, too, and say anyone who wants it is welcome to the world remaining—it won't be much.
> "There is still enough food wasted in any hundred restaurants in any large city to feed all the nation's dogs—a good many children who ought to have more, too. No—take my food—take all you need—but leave me my dog and I'll get by."

Result Of Incompetence And Indifference

I have had a good deal to say of the incompetence and indifference of medical officers at the various induction centers. These officers have sent thousands of men to combat units, men who could not stand the pressure, and have been discharged.

Every county site in the nation today the scene of the congregation of men, discharged by medical authority, who, in the aggregate are costing the government many millions of dollars. Of course some of the men who are being discharged are discharged on account of wounds received in combat, but a large percent of them are men who should never have been sent by the medical officers at the induction centers to combat units.

Yes, the medical examiners at the induction centers constitute the weakest link in the army set-up.

Nothing To Be Done About It

Irrespective of how I feel, how Ike Stone feels, and how landlords affected feel about the matter, it is my honest and candid belief that the dam on the Yalobusha River WILL be built sooner or later. It is an integral part of the comprehensive plan of flood control of the Yazoo Basin. If I recall the figures correctly, the Yalobusha (this included Skuna River) supplies about 1/3 of the water which eventually enters the Yazoo River just above Greenwood. Surely the engineers who have devoted years of study and survey of the area would not make such a mistake as would mean that the dam on the Yalobusha could be eliminated and still attain the main objective—that of protecting the Yazoo Basin.

The dam most likely will be built soon after the war, but COULD be built while the war is in progress. Nobody knows.

Pay Them A Salary

It is to be hoped that the present legislature, in line with its progressive policies, will enact a law to pay supervisors a straight salary instead of permitting the outworn and outmodeled law—which pays them so much per day for sessions and so much per day for inspecting roads—to continue to remain on the statute books.

Each supervisor in the state, like every other officer of the federal, state and county government, draws the MAXIMUM allowed by law, so why continue the hoax about "inspecting roads?"

The supervisors in our county earn their money, even if they have to go in the back door to get their maximum salary of $100.00 a month.

Do away with this damn foolishness, gentlemen of the legislature.

Telephone Usage

The usage of the telephone in a community is a mighty fine index of business activity in that community.

It is interesting to note that in Grenada the number of phones has increased from 737 to 2400 since October, 1940.

The number of switchboard operators has increased in that period from 7 to 20; the operating force from 14 to 65; the local calls have increased 75 percent, and are now being handled at the rate of 10,000 a day, and that the toll increase has been 280 percent in the period under review.

From the Greenwood District, of which the Grenada office is an important part, 65 men have gone to the armed services.

The whole Bell System furnished 21,000 men in World War No. 1; it has already furnished 66,000 men in the present war to date.

My Day

(With apologies to Elenor)

Had two cups of coffee in bed and got up and went to work at.....o'clock (That's private business).

Charles Perry breezed in nonchalantly, as if he had not been on a birthday party Sunday night at the Officers' Club, and wanted a hurry-up order of postal cards—which he got. We strive to please.

Mr. Horn prepared a number of printed single wrappers so that oversea servicemen can receive an individual wrapper, and I hope this will assure better delivery.

A soldier's wife called, asking for room.

Mr. B. B. Baker called and told us a joke he heard at camp—and a ladylike one, too.

Uncle Jim Rose came in and had the paper sent to his son, J. B., in Pampa, Texas. He also wanted to know about the dam which, if built, will affect a lot of his land. It will be, Uncle Jim, in my opinion. But when?

A lady whose mother had recently died called to buy 12 extra copies of last week's GCW which contained an obituary of the deceased.

A lady called to tell us that the soldier whom she is to marry enlisted in January, instead of November.

Then sent a paper to Mary Meek at Hotel Gayosa. Aint it grand to be rich.

Then to dinner at the bus stantion where Mabel and I were surrounded by youth and beauty except for Harry Greenfield and Dr. Johnson.

A soldier's wife called, asking for room.

Lt. Smith of the Air Base came in to get some cards printed. May your tribe increase, as we do not want Horn to get into any devilment.

Mr. Longcoy, district manager of the Southern Bell came in, at our request, to give some figures on the enormous increase in the load on the Grenada exchange.

A soldier's wife called, asking for room.

A. G. Allen, native of Tillatoba, who was here to bring his mother, came in to get some ink on his nose. He is editor and general factorum of the Denham (La.) Spring News.

Mrs. Bernette came in and bought a copy of last week's paper.

A soldier's wife called, asking for room.

Had a letter containing a bunch of propaganda, "Bricker for President". We folks here do not know how to vote for a Republican, even if so inclined.

The Georgia Tech Alumni Association wants a contribution, according to a letter received. Waste paper basket for Bicker and Ga. Tech.

Talbert Turner, our furniture merchant neighbor down on the alley, wanted a copy of the GCW to send to his son, Fred, now in service.

The expressman, with a COD package, relieved me of about seven dollars. Everything we buy is paid for when or before it enters the front door.

Then a Dyre-Kent bill to pay. They are lazier than I am about getting out bills. I like to pay my bills on the first.

A soldier's wife called, asking for room.

Then Miss McIlvain wanted to see about sending the GCW overseas to her brother, Milton.

Temporarily fixed our awning, until Juchheim gets around to fixing it permanently.

George Terrell came in "when he had breakfast" a time which ranges from 10 until 2.

Mrs. Dora Mullin, who missed several copies, sent in the money by Mrs. Clark.

Berryhill, theWU manager wanted his name printed on some stationery, which was done instanter, as we had a big job pending.

Monday, indeed, was a dull day.

Attention, Supervisors And Legislators

You supervisors as a body are more interested inthe oil and gas possibilities than any other branch of our government

Oil production or even all active drilling and development programs, means an increase in your tax rolls One example in the state is Yazoo County where the tax rolls went up from eight million to nearly thirty million in three years. In numerous other counties drilling rigs, increases in land values have helped revenue.

There is an active campaign on by hidden sources to force on this state the most disastrous proration bills we have ever seen presented to a body of men supposed to possess a reasonable degree of intelligence. The authors of the bills should not have the face to meet you members. We should like to know who wrote them.

An example of what proration does to the development program, is right here at your door, in Alabama. Some of you members remember four years ago a cetain group tried to force proration on Mississippi at that time but the legislature had sufficient horse sense to defeat their efforts. The interests did not stop tho, they went over to Alabama and had a rank proration bill passed, which the state regrets now and a move is on to repeal the law. At that time Alabama was enjoying an active drilling campaign but since then they have had 39 tests in four years and Mississippi has had over four hundred.

Somebody invited certain Louisiana state officials over here to tell Mississipp to pass a proration bill. Of course that state and its leaders would like to see Mississippi prorated because if we get prolific production here it will damage some interests in that state, because we are nearer the eastern markets and we do not have the Mississippi river to cross and too we have deep water and river transportation to eastern markets. If your leaders who have wanted to learn about proration and its damaging evils, they should have had both sides presented by inviting Illinois state officials. Illinois and its legislature have seen fit to defeat all efforts to pass proration laws for the last ten years and oil men and land owners are making money in that state and they say there that they will never have proration.

The writer was in East Texas and saw refineries and oil producers go broke and land owners suffer and every other evil connected with oil was endured there because of proration. We could write many columns on this subject because we witnessed it and fought it for years there.

If you as officials or land owners are interested in your own behalf we suggest that you write, wire or phone your representatives in the legislature and ask that they vote against the proposed proration law.

What Mississippi needs is a statute firmly prescribing the methods of location, drilling, producing and marketing the oil so as to secure the conservation of itst oil resources.

If you will put all the pressure possible on your representatives you will be doing a worthy thing for yourself and your children.

We need the oil and we can produce,—all—, of course we mean to say under reasonable conservation regulations.

Get in touch with the boys in the legislature and tell them to vote against Senate Bill No. 24 and House Bill 39.

DO IT NOW —Mississippi Oil Review

Just as a Grenada County man who has been sucessful in drilling in this country and in Africa has erected his derrick and obtained a crew THIS monkey business has to start!! This country needs all the oil it can get, and the so-called wild catters are the boys who discover NEW fields.

20th Century Express

The other night after closing time, I was looking around to see if it was permissable to go home for the night and as usual, I discovered that I was far behind with my work, having found a lot of cases of merchandise that positively refused to get up in the shelves without help from me, so I pitched in to opening the cases and in doing so, a train of thought began to pass through my head.

It so happened that I was putting a case of those good Searchlight Matches in the shelf and it made me shiver to think back to the days when you had to start a fire by rubbing two sticks together and I wondered how my good wife would get the gas heater lit and warm the room in time for me to get to work on time.

I WAS THANKFUL

My next move was the Coffee section and I thought of how sometime we used to forget to parch the coffee the night before and we'd first have to get a red hot fire in the old wood range and take a biscuit pan and fill it with green coffee and parch it and then take a little coffee mill and grind tha coffee and by that time we'd be starved to death and still breakfast wasn't started. After filling the shelves with hundreds of pounds of every kind of coffee—such as Maxwell House, Dean's, Forbe's, Chase & Sanborn, Folger's, Tops, Fleetwood, Old Judge and Sanka—and it ground several grinds, I was sure glad I didn't have to parch coffee in the morning.

For A Quick Breakfast

My next move was in the Cereal section and I remembered how we would wait around about an hour every morning getting the aroma of hot biscuits, country ham, fried potatoes, fried eggs and pear preserves, but as I opened a case of quick cooking Quaker Oats I heard a slight noise over my left shoulder and spied a big display of large pink meat Grapefruit, and Sunsweet Prunes and I thought of how easy it is to get a good quick nourishing breakfast now without starving while it is cooking. MENU—half Grapefruit, dish of Prunes, dish of hot Quaker Oats with a good hot cup of Coffee.

With Plenty of Luxuries

While filling the shelf with Arm & Hammer Baking Soda it popped into my mind that Soda comes in as handy as our wire fence did when I was a boy during plowing time. I would be plowing along and hit a root and pop would go my hamestring, so I would go over to the wire fence and cut a strand of wire and fasten the hames back on the horse and here we'd go again.

Baking Soda is good for baking but it is good to wash ice boxes, shelves and places that have a mouldy odor, and if you happen to run out of tooth paste it will pinch hit until you get down to the Drug Store.

There are so many luxuries that have become commonplace with us that we do not realize how blessed we are to be living in the Land of the Free and the Home of the Brave.

HOUSEHOLD HINTS

Before starting to drive that small tack, stick it through a strip of heavy paper—brown wrapping paper is fine. Then you can hold the paper while you drive, and save your thumb. The paper tears out easily.

Sawhorses with a board or two on them make a dandy platform for papering and other housecleaning chores. But often they scratch the floors. Several doubles of cloth fastened to the lower ends of the legs will prevent this trouble.

Texture of griddle cakes will be finer if the eggs are separated and the whites are beaten and added last to the batter.

If wool clothes get wet or muddy, dry them slowly at room temperature (never close to a stove or radiator). When dry, brush them.

Before adjusting hems of dresses to new lengths, rip the hem and wash the garment. It is easier to get rid of the crease and the thin ridge of soil which often forms at this point if the preliminary washing is given.

When you hear a Marine called a "Leatherneck," it has nothing to do with the epidermis of his neck. Years ago the Marine uniform was equipped with a high stiff leather collar. From that time on, "Leatherneck" has been the word for a Marine. The word for his favorite cigarette is "Camel"—the favorite cigarette also of men in the Army, Navy, and Coast Guard. (Based on actual sales records from service men's stores.) And though there are Post Office restrictions on packages to overseas Army men, you can still send Camels to soldiers in the U. S., and to men in the Navy, Marines, and Coast Guard wherever they are.—Adv.

"I WAS CONSTIPATED FOR MANY YEARS!"

Now I'm 'Regular' Every Morning!"

Constipated? Then here's an unsolicited letter you'll want to read: "I'd been troubled with common constipation for many years. Was taking laxatives and pills all the time, and feeling very weak and run down. 3 months ago, I began eating KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN daily. Now, I have a regular, natural movement every morning, which helps me feel my best!" Mr. Samuel D. Blank, 292 Kings Highway, Brooklyn, New York.

What is this seeming magic of KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN? Scientists say it's because KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN can really "get at" a common cause of constipation — namely, lack of sufficient "cellulosic" elements in the diet. KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN is one of Nature's most effective sources of these elements, which help the friendly colonic flora fluff up and prepare the colonic wastes for easy, natural elimination. KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN is not a purgative! Doesn't work by "sweeping out." It's a gentle-acting, "regulating" food!

If you have constipation of this type, eat KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN or several ALL-BRAN muffins regularly. Drink plenty of water. See if you don't find lasting relief! Insist on genuine ALL-BRAN, made only by Kellogg's in Battle Creek.

Two-Way Red Army Offensive Traps German Divisions Southeast of Kiev; 'Bitterest Battle' Wages Near Cassino; Furloughs Likely for Pacific Veterans

(EDITOR'S NOTE: When opinions are expressed in these columns, they are those of Western Newspaper Union's news analysis and not necessarily of this newspaper.)

RUSSIA:
'Molotov's Cocktail'

Big international news of the month was Russia's grant of independence in foreign affairs and defense preparations to 16 republics making up the soviet government.

Vycheslav Molotov

"Molotov's latest cocktail" was the way London's diplomatic circles described the move, which, to all practical purposes would still leave all 16 of the republics under Moscow's control through the Communist party, but at the same time would qualify each one to representation at the peace table.

Announced by Foreign Commissar Vycheslav Molotov, the plan embraced the territories of Estonia, Latvia and Lithuania, of White Russia in old Poland, and of Karelo-Finland, all of which would be constituted as republics after their annexation by Russia, as a fulfillment of the Atlantic charter's guarantee of self-government for all small nations.

Drive Continues

Driving on the heels of retreating German troops, the Reds crossed into Estonia on the Baltic battlefront, while farther to the south, other Russ forces continued their hammering along the prewar Polish border.

By smashing toward the Baltic at one end of the 250-mile northern front, and pressing their attacks along the prewar Polish border at the other, the Reds threatened a breakthrough that would trap the whole German army in this sector.

Stiffest German resistance was being met near the prewar Polish border, although the Nazis were fighting a strong rear-guard action in the Baltic. As a result of the Baltic drive, the Reds cleared the Nazis from below Leningrad, gaining control of the extensive network of railroads in the vicinity.

"Attrition warfare"—that is, the wearing out of the enemy—continued in the Ukraine, where the Russians went back to the offensive after German counterattacks 80 miles from the Rumanian border.

FURLOUGH:
For Pacific Vets

If the facilities and battle conditions allow, an increasing number of veterans with two years or more service in the Pacific area will be granted furloughs, Com. Gen. Millard F. Harmon declared.

Already a program of replacing vets with fresh troops has been initiated, General Harmon said, but on a limited scale. Availability of shipping and need for troops for the increasing tempo of the Pacific warfare will determine the extent of the furlough program, General Harmon explained.

"Anyone in a responsible position in the army, from General Marshall down, appreciates the desirability of rotating men in the combat zones," General Harmon said. "But they also appreciate the need for winning the war, and you cannot allow rotation of personnel to interfere unduly with that accomplishment."

PACIFIC:
Won't Fight

Again the boastful Japanese fleet refused to come out and fight, and following the heaviest naval bombardment in history which left shore defenses in smoking tatters, U. S. forces overran the Marshall islands in mid-Pacific.

One of the enemy's last outer defensive rims of their main holdings in the Philippine area, the Marshalls, were virtually surrendered by the enemy, without the bitter, last-ditch fight expected. When marines swarmed ashore after a murderous barrage of U. S. naval guns, they met only scattered pillbox opposition, the enemy's own big artillery pieces have been smashed.

Invasion of the Marshalls gave the U. S. a springboard for the next step in the march to Tokyo, now 2,000 miles off, while reports indicated that the Japs were massing planes all through the Philippine and homeland area to meet the push of the greatest naval armada in history, when that day comes.

ITALY:
Bitterest Fighting

Bitterest battle of the bitter Italian campaign was being fought around the Nazis' mountain stronghold of Cassino, with valiant U. S. doughboys working their way into the town behind the rumbling roar of their tanks, while German suicide squads sniped from battered buildings now in rubble.

Forty miles to the north, the enemy rushed in reinforcements to counter the Fifth army operating from its beachhead below Rome, with parachutists, antiaircraft gunners, tankmen and reconnaissance units formed into regular units to fight off the U. S. and British troops moving on the Germans' supply roads under the heavy fire.

Although Cassino itself lay heaped in ruins, the enemy clung stubbornly to dominating heights around the town, and dug firmly into a strong web of concrete machine-gun and mortar pits on the level ground. As doughboys picked their way through the defensive maze, they closed on the main highway leading northward to Rome, over which the enemy was supplying his troops.

SOLDIER VOTING:
Red-Hot Issue

Joining with the almost solid Republican bloc, southern representatives in the nation's Capitol held their ground for state control of soldier voting in opposition to the administration's plan for federal supervision of elections for the offices of President, senator and congressman by means of a blank ballot on which servicemen would write in either the names of their choices or just mark the party they favored.

A compromise between the senate and house loomed, with the senate favoring a bill which would allow use of the federal ballot for soldiers whose states failed to provide for absentee voting by July 1, and the house lined up for a measure directing the distribution of applications for ballots among servicemen and prompt provision of such ballots by states if the application is accepted.

SUPREME COURT:
Changeable Opinions

Litigants and lower courts are being left without a basis for settling legal disputes as a result of the Supreme court's tendency to disregard its previous decisions, Justices Roberts and Frankfurter declared.

Justice Roberts

The two justices expressed their opinion following the Supreme court's award of compensation to a seaman for injuries sustained as a result of the use of defective equipment by the employer, when better facilities were available. The court's action reversed its previous rulings in similar cases.

Said Justices Roberts and Frankfurter: "The evil resulting from overruling earlier considered decisions must be evident . . . Defendants will not know whether to litigate or settle, for they will have no assurance that a declared rule will be followed . . . Respect for tribunals must fall when the bar and public come to understand that nothing that has been said in prior adjudication has any force in a current controversy."

WAR SPENDING:
On Rise

During the first half of the 1944 fiscal year starting last July, U. S. government expenditures totaled 52½ billion dollars, compared with 41½ billion dollars for the same period in 1943, and the increased spending rate was maintained during January.

More than 7½ billion dollars was spent last month, in comparison with about 6½ billion dollars for January, 1943, with the army accounting for 118 million dollars of the increase and the navy 808 million dollars.

Because of the current pay-as-you-go tax deductions from weekly wage envelopes, treasury receipts for January were above last year, thus bringing in-go and out-go into better balance. Bond sales also were up more than 450 million dollars over January, 1943.

HIGHLIGHTS . . . in the week's news

GARTERS: Hope for synthetic rubber for garters, girdles and other garments faded with the announcement that the rubber director has forbidden the use of neoprene except for a few critical civilian items. Plans to make shoe cement, elastic yarns and fabrics had to be set aside. New military demands made the order necessary, the director said.

LITTLE STORES: Sales of independent retailers were 13 per cent higher in 1943 than in the previous year. These figures do not include department stores, which had an increase of 17 per cent in the period.

INVASION: Railroad shops in Britain are hard at work making special cars and locomotives for use on continental railroads for the invasion of western Europe.

IT IS not necessary to make our economies so dull that they depress every one. Let's make them gay and attractive to give us a lift and a bit of a challenge too. This old rocker is an example.

A saw and a wood chisel were used for removing projections and rockers. An old quilt was found for padding and the feathers from an old bolster were packed into a thick seat cushion to raise the seat which has been lowered by removing the rockers. A huge cluster of grapes weighing 112 pounds, the largest ever seen in the grape-growing country, was exhibited at a recent Los Angeles, Calif., fair.

Save Soap

Cakes of soap should not be left in wet dishes. Packaged soaps should be measured when used and not thrown wastefully into the dishpan or wash tub. Slivers of soap should be saved and pressed against new cakes or used in a soap shaker.

Rat Waste

It takes at least 100 pounds of grain to keep a rat alive for a year, and in that time he can destroy or waste much more food, if he can reach it. A single pair of rats left unmolested could increase to 800 within a year.

Bone Meat

Women who work in the boning department of packing plants are most proficient in removing bones from various cuts so as to make the most economical use of the meat for canning or packing into sausages.

Mix Feed

When cows are fed liberally on silage, they should have at least 10 pounds legume hay per day and a grain mixture containing 16 to 18 per cent digestible protein fed according to production.

Expensive Pests

In dollar values of the destruction they cause, rats are the most expensive wild animal pest of farmers; mice are the second most destructive of wild animals.

Sweat's Reward

There comes no sweet without some sweat.

TO YOUR Good Health
by DR. JAMES W. BARTON

Released by Western Newspaper Union.

MENTAL PATIENTS

It has been very gratifying to see the number of young mental patients cured by the shock method—insulin, metrazol and electric. This treatment has been very successful in what is called recent cases; that is, the symptoms have been present for not more than a year. It comes, then, as a pleasant surprise to learn that the shock treatment is successful in many older patients.

Dr. Barton

In the American Journal of Psychiatry, Dr. V. L. Evans reports the results obtained by bringing on convulsions in people who are elderly and often in poor physical condition. There were 50 patients with mental or behavior disabilities treated with electric and metrazol shock. Of these patients 17 were over 60 and 5 were over 70 years of age. No patient was refused convulsive shock treatment because of the physical risks involved. Some of the patients possessed physical abnormalities besides being older than most cases treated by this method. Seven were greatly undernourished. Four were exhausted from excitement and physical overactivity at the time the treatment was started.

Most of the cases had failed to respond to other methods of treatment and it seemed almost certain that there was no chance of recovery unless some severe or drastic treatment was given.

Of the 50 patients treated, 31 recovered, 19 improved and 10 were unimproved.

When we remember the age, the physical condition, the length of time these cases had been afflicted, and the fact that all had received the usual methods of treatment without benefit, the results of the shock treatment must be considered remarkable.

Dr. Evans' conclusion is that, although the risks seem to be great, the complications are remarkably low.

Kidney Ills Related To Blood Pressure

As high blood pressure is responsible for most cases of heart stroke (coronary thrombosis) and brain stroke (apoplexy) all over the world, research physicians are studying methods of reducing or controlling high blood pressure.

That there is a definite relation between congested kidneys and high blood pressure has been well established by American and European physicians. In the Journal of the American Medical Association, Dr. I. H. Paige and his co-workers claimed that from a study of animals and men they were able to extract a substance from normal kidneys that can reduce blood pressure. Drs. H. Goldblatt, J. R. Kahn and H. A. Lewis in Archives of Surgery, state that it is lack of oxygen in the blood supplying a kidney or kidneys that is a big factor in causing high blood pressure.

In addition to the work of the above physicians, other physicians are of the belief that the time is not far distant when high blood pressure will be controlled by substances obtained from the healthy kidney.

Until some medical or gland treatment of high blood pressure is found, some physicians are advising surgical treatment in cases that are becoming rapidly dangerous to life.

What is the surgical treatment of high blood pressure? Surgical treatment is cutting the nerve roots of certain nerves.

In their book, "The Autonomic Nervous System," Drs. J. C. White and R. Smithwick give a review of the results of this surgical treatment in their own clinic, the Mayo Clinic, Ann Arbor and Cleveland.

In their own series, Drs. White and Smithwick obtained good results in 65 per cent of 26 cases.

Dr. G. Crile, Cleveland, operated on 213 cases by removing large bundles of nerve roots from each side. Of 61 of these cases followed for three or more years, the blood pressure was reduced by 20 points in 78 per cent, by 40 points in more than 43 per cent, by 75 points in 7 per cent.

In Dr. M. M. Peet's 290 cases undergoing surgical operation, the blood pressure fell to normal in about 12 per cent, good results were obtained in over 7 per cent and fair results in over 50 per cent.

In such a serious operation, the death rate in all these operations is low, running from 2 to 5 per cent.

JESUS TEACHES TRUE GREATNESS

LESSON TEXT—Mark 9:33-39; 10:13-16, 42-45.

GOLDEN TEXT—The Son of man came not to be ministered unto, but to minister, and to give his life a ransom for many.—Mark 10:45.

Ambition to be great is not wrong—provided one has a proper conception of greatness, and seeks it in a right way. Every one of us should be our very best, not for selfish reasons, but for God's glory.

The disciples were earnest and eager to have a place of honor with the Lord in glory, but even in that holy purpose they became selfish and argumentative. Jesus gives several marks of a truly great man.

Greatness Means Being—

I. Not First, but Last (9:33-35).

The way of the world is to seek the place of "No. 1 man"—to be looked up to, honored, and served by all. True greatness takes the last place, the place of a servant; and lo, God regards that as the first place.

It is not a question of timid diffidence, or self-effacement, but a willingness to take the humble place in order to serve all.

II. Not Proud, but Humble (9:36, 37).

"Great" people of this world have no time for children. Let them be cared for by servants, teachers, anyone at all, but not by their "distinguished" parents.

But Jesus said that the one who set aside human pride and received a child with humility of heart and mind—and in His name—received the Lord who gave them life—spiritual as well as physical—and is interested in them; in fact, He is with them and hence when we receive them in His name, He is there!

III. Not Exclusive, but Co-operative (9:38, 39).

John, quick to apprehend spiritual truth, saw in the teaching of Christ concerning the little child the condemnation of something he had done.

The man who casts out demons, or who gives the disciple of Jesus a cup of water, in His name—that is, with true faith in Christ, and in His power, and for His glory—must be a believer. He may not belong to our group or circle, he may not speak our language, he may not use our methods, but if he is serving Christ we should not forbid him or speak evil of him. You and I may not like one another's appearance, or voice, or methods, but let us love and co-operate with one another for Christ's sake!

IV. Not Important, but Approachable (10:13-16).

Some who think they are great, pride themselves on being hard to reach—protected from the rabble and their problems by secretaries and servants.

The disciples had built up such an idea of the importance of Christ in their own minds. He had never given them any ground for it either by word or deed.

So the man who is truly great follows in the Master's footsteps. He is approachable, kind, has time for simple folk and little children. If that isn't true of a man he is not great—no matter what he may think of himself or what others may say about him.

V. Not a Supervisor, but a Servant (10:42-44).

Christianity is not organized after the manner of secular government (v. 42). Much of the mischief that has come to pass in the church is the result of "running the church" as an organization, when it should be allowed to develop as a living organism.

The way up is down. That is always true in the spiritual realm. The Son of man came not to be ministered unto but to minister; yea, to give His very life (v. 45). Shall not those who bear His name walk the same path of humble self-denial?

Anyone who observes with even a little care knows that the church of Jesus Christ is hindered most seriously by the presence of pride and selfish ambition. Some people will not work unless they can rule.

Are there then no Christians who humbly serve the Lord? Yes, praise His name, there are many, and wherever they are found they are the salt of the earth.

VI. Not Unselfish, but Sacrificial (10:45).

The world is full of people who want to be served. Their little personalities swell with pride and pleasure if someone else cringes and bows, and serves.

There is nothing commendable about being served. The great and good thing is to serve.

The Son of man—Himself the Lord of glory, the One who might have called legions of angels to do His will—came "not to be ministered unto but to minister." That service meant going about doing good even when He was exhausted and worn. But it meant far more than that, for it took Him to the cross where He gave "his life a ransom" for us. Are we ready to learn of Him?

SNAPPY FACTS ABOUT RUBBER
With synthetic tires about to be in general use, experts emphasize again that speed is important in determining tire mileage. The legal limit of 35 m.p.h. has been found to be the best mileage conserver with synthetics, just as it was with tires of crude rubber.
Tire cords lose elasticity as they grow older, which accounts for many blowouts when a well-worn tire strikes a rough spot in the road.
Wartime regulations are saving nearly 200 million bus miles a year for the country's highway transportation system. Converted into tires, this conserved mileage means a lot to the rubber program.

FREE! This booklet shows how to build modern, improved-type poultry houses for all climates. Shows structural details.

Housing your hens in a comfortable, sanitary, rat-proof concrete poultry house is good way to insure bigger egg profits. When built of concrete a poultry house will last a lifetime and its modest first cost will be practically the last.

Long-lasting concrete is the thrifty material for feeding floors, dairy barn floors, milk houses, foundations, grain storages, manure pits, water tanks—improvements that help you raise more needed foodstuffs.

Send today for "how to build" booklets. If you need help, get in touch with your concrete contractor or building material dealer.

FOOD FIGHTS FOR FREEDOM

Our government is faced with the gigantic task of providing our people with enough food to meet the basic requirements of good health and sound nutrition, and, in addition, of meeting the most essential demands for food for war purposes — demands which are bound to increase as new countries are freed from enemy rule, and Victory draws nearer. The successful execution of this task depends on one individual — the American citizen, who, multiplied by 130 million, can become a mighty force in making "Food Fight For Freedom." To do his part, he can—

SAMMY BURTON

1. Produce more food of the right kinds.
2. Conserve food, avoid waste.
3. Preserve fresh and perishable foods.
4. Eat the right foods every day for health.
5. Adjust diet to food available by substituting plentiful for scarce foods.
6. Play fair in buying food — share it cheerfully and fairly through rationing.
7. Help keep food costs down—by paying no more than top prices.
8. Participate in community food projects, and inspire friends and neighbors to do the same.
9. Place the war first and expect to adjust to wartime and post war conditions.

In our hearts we should learn to rank food in importance with Bonds, machine tools, rubber, waste fat—with guns, ships, tanks and planes.

For food—American food—can be the deadliest weapon of all. It may save thousands of American lives. The length of this war may depend on how successfully, willingly and wisely we carry out our part in the "Food Fight for Freedom."
